Dear Mr. Ryan,

I hear and see the slogan "7 on your side." several times during the week and I question whose side WJLA-TV is on. The reason for my questioning is the many times over the years that I've contacted WJLA-TV concerning energy not one response was received. My last e-mail to "7 on your side." also had no response.

The technology to greatly reduce our dependence on foreign oil has existed for many decades. Yet, not one major media outlet will inform the public of this technology. Can you imagine the public response, during the first gulf war, if it were common knowledge that engines could burn the components of water for fuel? What would the public response be now with the escalating cost of oil?

The attached "Did you know?" article has documentation for four of the statements. The CD duplicates my web site and has over 100 documents including complete documentation for the article. I distribute this article because no local media will inform the public of this information.

Mr. Ryan, will WJLA-TV inform the public of the decades old energy technology and be "7 on your side"?

Regards,
